

Health Education Classroom Questionnaire Content

This is a list of the major topics covered in the classroom-level health education interview. For more detailed information on the content of the study questionnaires, please visit the project web page at www.rti.org/shpps.

- health education topics taught in specific courses or classes
- the number of hours spent teaching specific health education topics such as nutrition and dietary behavior, HIV prevention, tobacco use prevention, and violence prevention
- courses or classes devoted to health education topics versus courses or classes divided between health education topics and other subjects
- the number of students in courses or classes that contain required health topics
- materials used to plan and teach health education courses or classes
- methods used to teach health education courses or classes
- student participation in health-related community activities
- the role of the family in determining the content of health education
- credentials that teachers of health education are required to have
- staff development provided to teachers of health education